EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Escape to America's Caribbean paradise for VIBE 2026, the premier boutique-style boating expo of the year—where luxury meets adventure in a stunning tropical setting. Hosted at IGY's Yacht Haven Grande in St. Thomas, this destination show invites attendees to explore the latest sailing yachts and powerboats for sale or charter, meet top industry professionals, and even test sail directly from the docks. Guests can board vessels, browse the Harbor360 Vendor Expo, enjoy local food & drinks, and experience all-day live music and cultural performances.

Now entering its third year, VIBE has rapidly earned its place as the Caribbean's must-attend marine event. Produced by VIPCA (Virgin Islands Professional Charter Association), the show unites boating enthusiasts, charter companies, brokers, and marine suppliers from around the world. Proceeds directly support VIPCA's year-round work strengthening and promoting the USVI marine industry—making every exhibition and sponsorship a true investment in the region's maritime future.

Sold-out exhibitor space, on-site vessel sales, and robust media coverage underscored VIBE's rise as the Caribbean's must-attend marine event. The momentum from 2025 sets the stage for an even more impactful 2026.

PURCHASING A VESSEL IN THE U.S.V.I. VS THE U.S.A.

Challenge	U.S. Virgin Islands Advantage
With few exceptions, foreign-built yachts must be imported before they can be offered for sale or charter to U.S. residents. Many yachts are ineligible to be imported because their engines do not comply with EPA emissions requirements.	The U.S. Virgin Islands are outside the United States customs area, subject to a separate customs regime. Foreign-built, non-imported yachts may be offered for sale or charter to U.S. residents in the U.S. Virgin Islands and are not subject to stateside duties.
The coastwise laws prohibit foreign-built and foreign-flagged yachts, even those have been imported, from carrying charter guests on a time or voyage charter in the United States.	The coastwise laws do not apply to the U.S. Virgin Islands. Foreign-built and foreign-flagged yachts may carry charter guests in the U.S. Virgin Islands without having to use bareboat charters.
U.S.-documented yachts of less than 100 gross tons are generally allowed to carry no more than six passengers for hire.	In the U.S.V.I., yachts of less than 100 gross tons that comply with the MCA small commercial vessel code—also called the Blue or Yellow Code—are allowed to carry up to twelve passengers for hire.

ADDITIONAL BENEFITS FOR YOUR CUSTOMERS

The U.S. Virgin Islands are a U. S. territory, which means U.S citizens can enter without a passport, and there are direct flights from major U.S. gateway cities.
